00:42:30 Kim Barker: Yes thank you Shannon! I am learning so much from you!

00:43:52 Young, Mia: Thanks you all for having me!

00:43:59 Megan Kaplinsky: Thank you, Mia

00:44:53 Nance Nunes-Gill: I do believe that bandwidth plays a part in the internet connection.

00:46:49 Megan Kaplinsky: If you have a wish for the next version of the Canvas Commons project, such as a video idea or category, let us know and/or share a link to a suggestion. You can connect and share with this Google Form - <https://forms.gle/ZjdLMg5LYWYqEsZw7>

00:48:28 Victoria Rioux: Yes, Rosemary. Thank you so much for your equity lens!!

00:48:41 Nance Nunes-Gill: Children may need their pet to help with the anxiety of being online for the children/young teens

00:53:53 Renee Marshall: Bueller???

00:54:22 Megan Kaplinsky: That's great! I didn't know that you can share a file/slide in the waiting room.

00:55:40 Shannon Turmon: Setting up comfortable/personal and safe Zoom etiquette has helped me with my new incoming freshmen students.

00:56:10 Renee Marshall: Yadira has had great success with holding one on one meetings with students to help with engagement in class.

00:56:31 Renee Marshall: Trust

00:57:22 Angela Bever: @Megan Kaplinsky: You need to allow students into zoom, but just present the "waiting room" and turn off your camera. It's great for short breaks because the kids don't know when to return to "class."

00:57:23 Kim Barker: That is so insightful Rosemary. Thank you for sharing that.

00:57:54 Veronica Allen (LAMC):Yes! @Renee...I noticed the students that made apts to meet with me one on one, were more likely to "show" themselves in a live class session

00:58:06 Rosemary Wrenn (she/her):or have wrinkles!

00:58:40 Rosemary Wrenn (she/her): It is SO good for our students to see the 'real' us on camera!

01:00:03 Kim Barker: So many of us have used our home sanctuaries as a place to unplug. It can be difficult to have to share that space now.

01:00:12 Renee Marshall: Great point Kim!

01:00:56 Rosemary Wrenn (she/her): Students are dealing with incredible 'stereotype threat' (Claude Steele) to live up to what a 'student' looks like.

01:01:14 Teresa McAllister: Hello everyone, sorry I was late. You may have covered this, but do YouTube auto-generated captions count as accessible?

01:01:28 Megan Kaplinsky: No, they need to be adjusted

01:04:50 Teresa McAllister: My question was specific related to fieldwork videos

01:05:29 doug hughey: I want to meet monthly

01:05:37 Nance Nunes-Gill: I like meeting at least once a month

01:05:38 Angela Bever: I would love to keep meeting monthly :)

01:05:52 Rosemary Wrenn (she/her): I'd definitely like to continue this group

01:05:53 Megan Kaplinsky: Teresa, yes, our videos are included are accessible. We did not include videos that were not captioned.

01:06:33 Victoria Rioux: I think it has been nice to have the collaboration, and just to hear from others in this same field. Once a month is a nice check-in.

01:06:36 Teresa McAllister: I agree, Monthly is great.

01:06:37 doug hughey: that would be awesome!

01:06:39 Rosemary Wrenn (she/her): Thank you!

01:06:44 Angela Bever: I am a 3rd grade teacher, I have a student teacher, and I am creating my own content. I would be happy to share.

01:06:52 toney: question-how is attention, engagement for English learners, students with disabilities in the virtual learning environment?

01:07:35 Teresa McAllister: @Angela would you participate in my Padlet about tips and suggestions for future educators?

01:07:55 doug hughey: Is the assumption that every child has a computer and camera at home?

01:08:31 Veronica Allen (LAMC): Can you please send out a Doodle poll on possible meetings dates, if we meet monthly?

01:08:34 Nance Nunes-Gill: I've enjoyed today, but I do need to leave now. Thank you everyone for all the support you are providing us.

01:08:36 Teresa McAllister: I joined late so I don't have the link.

01:09:00 Angela Bever: @Teresa Yes! Happy to help.

01:10:14 toney: interested in hearing about the students experience in distance Ed.

01:10:29 Teresa McAllister: @Angela - thank you!!! Here's the link. I don't have any posts yet, but anything will help:) Anyone else is welcome to post too!
