CTC ECE Webinars

Dear Colleagues,

This is the first in a series of ongoing updates and communications between the Commission and preparers of the Early Care and Education workforce. We are working to develop a comprehensive mailing list of contact persons at each of the community colleges and four-year institutions that offer preparation for the Child Development Permit. We know that some of you may be the appropriate contact person for your institution, but if you are not, please send this email on to the appropriate person and let us know if you want to be removed from the mailing list. If we have missed someone whom you know should also be included, please let us know that as well. We appreciate your help in getting the word out to the ECE preparer community, and we want to make sure that everyone who needs or wants this information can be included in future mailings. The new email address is ECE@ctc.ca.gov (see below).

Updated ECE Webpage:

The Commission is pleased to inform you that we have updated the ECE webpage. On this webpage you can find the new dedicated ECE mailbox address for preparation program providers along with updated information about:

- the Child Development Permit;
- direct links to the permit application and instructions in both English and Spanish, as well as direct links to other key permit-related certification information;
- the Commission's Preschool Development Grant Renewal (PDG-R) activities;
- links to the Governor's Master Plan for Early Learning and Care committee meetings; and more.
