Comments/Questions from small group discussions	If anyone knows of any lab schools that are going to allow students to interact live in spring if you could email me at dvansinden@lbcc.edu . Thank you!
Shared ideas	In our students reflection on their lesson plans we asked them to write out how they would implement this activity in a child's home with common household items  On our lesson planning form, we always require students to do a home/school connection. They list how they would communicate to families, what they would say to families about the activity and concept, why/how it encourages development and then How families can extend the learning at home of the concept using everyday materials.
