00:27:45 Leanna Romero: I wish they knew I was trying my best with how I was feeling inside with anxiety

00:27:46 Dr. Sharon Chard-Yaron: I wish my teachers knew how offensive it was to hear anti Semitic remarks and insinuations

00:28:03 Tina Castillo: Something I wish my teachers knew about me was I had a hard childhood growing up.

00:28:05 mercedes fuentes: The way i learn is while doing the assignment i have to do it while being guided

00:28:05 Alejandra Hernandez: I wish they new that I was not shy, just english was not my first language so it was hard to communicate in elementary

00:28:12 Patrick Portiz: The difficulty understanding both sides of my heritage

00:28:15 Cristobal Sanchez: I wish my teachers knew that I liked to read. I was pushed around for it.

00:28:19 Maria T Gonzalez Lopez: my parents were immigrants and the challenges a child growing in this environment faces

00:28:23 Tania Mustafa: Tania Mustafa,

00:28:29 M. Lea Martinez: Love everyone's responses!!!

00:28:53 Tania Mustafa: Knowing five languages is my asset.

00:28:55 Jessica Burnett: That art is a career path

00:28:57 SANDRA FLORES: I I wish my home language, Spanish, was seemed as a tool to progress versus being alienated and banned.

00:29:12 Daree Jones: I wish they knew the struggle and could identify with how it was to live in a low income neighborhood

00:29:40 Claudia Sanchez: The invalidation in erasing all other people's history within history class.

00:31:22 Sonia Ahn: Good morning! These are wonderful responses. I teach a kinder class and am a CPTP mentor.

00:32:00 Theresa Hagelbarger: so excited as a monolingual teacher to have pedagogy and training to help with ideas to better incorporate more cultures every day

00:32:51 M. Lea Martinez: My Anthropology professor intimated that the Philippines is a huge "red district". That was very offensive to me!

00:33:13 Theresa Hagelbarger: As a career counselor transitioning to early ed, love hearing the validation. I teach multi cultural marketing and am thrilled to find this group!

00:34:45 Theresa Hagelbarger: Thank you for sharing the book information!

00:35:26 Cristobal Sanchez: Do you have a link to your dissertation on this? I would love to read it.

00:38:13 Joanna Feher-Herrera:
<https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1rciaGUYVFYKSRbq1pvvGMla3B9RNqlvvcZ7orbjhxo/edit?usp=sharing>

00:38:38 Terry Jones: excellent! thank you

00:38:50 Maria T Gonzalez Lopez: great point

00:39:21 Maria Ruvalcaba: Was very difficult for me to relate.

00:41:22 Renee Marshall: "Would you stay in a place where you are invisible?" - powerful

00:41:29 David Vargas: Can You See Only In Black In White Or Certain Colors If You Are Color Blind

00:41:52 Claudia Sanchez: I grew up near the home ase for Cesar Chávez and didn't learn about his work until I moved away from the town. It would have been great to learn right there and there where it was happening. Plus it would have been so validating.

00:43:02 Renee Marshall: David - Colorblindness is the racial ideology that posits the best way to end discrimination is by treating individuals as equally as possible, without regard to race, culture, or ethnicity (Williams, 2011).

00:43:26 Monique Young: I think it's also critical to hear the stories of black and brown children from them

00:44:09 Diana Cruz: Omg yes learning about heroic actions made by non white cultures would be have been nice to se growing up

00:44:17 Diana Cruz: See**

00:46:13 Dr. Sharon Chard-Yaron: As a minority growing up I'm reminded how some groups addressed the Dick and Jane approach to everything: (Chinese School, Hebrew School).. our parents did not depend on the public schools to tell our stories beyond one or two token representatives...

00:46:37 Jessica Burnett: I wish we talked more about cultural inclusion. Especially since race is a social construct and does not correlate to race. Is the combatant racism or prejudice?

00:48:41 Melissa Bustos Troxell: First time hearing about it.

00:49:10 Foxxie Han: Never heard about this. Wow! My stomach has just turned

00:50:24 David Vargas: How To Cite Essays

00:50:25 Sarah Shinagawa: That it's legal for the US military to promise people citizenship and not follow through

00:50:28 Renee Marshall: The truth about Thanksgiving

00:50:29 Julie Turk: The idea that being colorblind was a bad thing

00:50:31 Dilia Martinez: Latinx history.

00:50:36 Patrick Portiz: The history of Filipino people in the US

00:50:37 Maria Ruvalcaba: That California use to belong to Mexico

00:50:50 Marini Smith: Black history before slavery

00:50:50 Esmeralda Granados: the history of chicanos in America

00:50:56 Melissa Bustos Troxell: MLA writing

00:51:01 Stephania Covarrubias: California being part of Mexico before

00:51:04 Maria Ruvalcaba: The Truth of Columbus day and thanksgiving

00:51:07 Foxxie Han: Learning about how so many thriving black communities were literally burned to the ground and the land taken from us.

00:51:12 Claudia Sanchez: MLK, Malcolm X, Ceaser Chavez, yes treatment of people of color and indigenous people, oh so much!

00:51:16 Daree Jones: Teaching on ethnic studies

00:51:23 Marie Langarica: that land wasn't "purchased" but stolen from Native Americans

00:51:24 Aida Alkhasova: California used to be Mexican

00:51:31 Debbie Bryce: Schools taught only good history not the bad

00:51:43 Sushma Arun: treating children according to knowledge rather than races

00:51:44 Dahlya Avila: Systematic Racism

00:52:05 Diana Cruz: Malcolm X

00:52:11 Heather P: Generational trauma

00:52:13 Viviana Hernandez: Tulsa race massacre

00:52:17 Melissa Bustos Troxell: What is the real history of Thanksgiving?

00:52:22 Monique Young: The successful and beautiful parts of Black History and Black people. Not just the ugly side.

00:52:23 Cristobal Sanchez: Black Panthers in CA and gun control having a racist origin in this country.

00:52:36 Claudia Sanchez: Tuskegee (spelling) experiments

00:52:46 Claudia Sanchez: Bracero programs

00:53:16 Gabriel Rouse: I would have enjoyed to learn the beauties of diversity.

00:53:40 Foxxie Han: I Grew up in Compton lol.

00:53:41 Daree Jones: Black panthers and the free breakfast program

00:54:14 Claudia Sanchez: Malcolm X and MLK, writings, Chicano, Native American writers oh so much literature left out of the canon.

00:54:25 Maria Ruvalcaba: Bracero programs. I grew up in Pico Union <3 The truth of LA riots!

00:54:27 Renee Marshall: Quick resource for Thanksgiving:
<https://www.dosomething.org/us/articles/truthsgiving-the-true-history-of-thanksgiving>

00:54:29 Rosemary Wrenn (she/hers): throughline

00:54:30 Cristobal Sanchez: The Watts Riots as well. Most of my life in South Central LA and I didn't know about it.

00:54:33 Daree Jones: Just basically WE WANT THE TRUTH ABOUT HISTORY !!!!!

00:54:41 Monique Young: Looking at things in history from other perspectives. I often wonder what were my people doing during this time period.

00:54:54 Ashley Harris Buford: the true stories about history

00:55:11 Melissa Bustos Troxell: Thank you Renee

00:55:47 Maria Ruvalcaba: heart breaking!!!

00:56:02 Tina Castillo: that is crazy.

00:56:26 Terry Jones: how sad is that

00:56:52 Foxxie Han: Growing up knowing that mothers could only get help with food and housing from the government if the man wasn't in the home...
The governments created broken homes

00:56:55 Sonia Ahn: I highly recommend the book "Lies My Teacher Told Me: Everything Your American History Textbook Got Wrong"

00:57:11 Renee Marshall: Love this: "How can I do better? And act."

00:59:59 Theresa Hagelbarger: Love to hear we are scholars.

01:00:18 Foxxie Han: My children are half Korean and I make it a point to include that weekly in his class. Rather it's Korean snacks or a Korean word here and there with his classmates. So important for him to be seen

01:00:47 Alejandra Hernandez: That is perfect all year long we need to celebrate and enjoy eachothers culture, otherwise it makes it feel that your culture is only important during that month but matter every other month.

01:03:11 Renee Marshall: <https://peacelearningcenter.org/store/reaching-all-by-creating-tribes-learning-communities/>

01:05:42 Julie Klein: Can you put some of the resources in the chat?

01:06:23 Julie Turk: The whole slide show with resources is at the beginning of the chat.

01:06:37 Melissa Bustos Troxell: This has been so informative. Thank you for opening my eyes!

01:06:39 Julie Klein: I can't see it

01:06:47 Rosemary Wrenn (she/hers):
<https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1rciaGUYVFYKSRbq1pvvGMla3B9RNqlvvcZ7orbjhxo/edit?usp=sharing>

01:07:09 Julie Klein: Thank you so much! So informative!

01:07:17 Hiroko Takenaka: Also this thinking is dangerous because there are more suicide among white male middle age folks when life doesn't meet their "expectation"

01:07:18 Claudia Sanchez: This has been very formative and hope building! Thank you so much!

01:07:27 Sushma Arun: Thank you

01:07:28 Sonia Ahn: I also like to encourage teachers to make the effort to include everyday stories about typical kids in their classroom libraries; they don't have to be all be biographies of heroes, or about specific cultural practices, holidays, etc

01:07:33 Gabriel Rouse: Thank you for your bravery on speaking on this topic.

01:07:50 Christine Martinez: Thank you Rosemary

01:07:57 Tina Castillo: Thank you so much!

01:07:57 Sushma Arun: Can I get a certificate of Participation

01:08:06 Melissa Bustos Troxell: My mom's school does the same thing

01:08:07 Maria Ruvalcaba: Thank you Rosemary!!!

01:08:14 Roslyn Odinga: Thank you so much. The information you presented was invaluable! You also spoke your truth.

01:08:42 Aida Alkhasova: Thank you so much!!

01:09:07 Renee Aragon: Thank you! Thank you for being honest, transparent and real with us!

01:09:28 Sarah Shinagawa: Thank you! I loved this presentation!

01:09:51 Maria Ruvalcaba: This workshops should be provided for not only educators.

01:10:20 Heather P: Can you please share where you did your doctorate work?

01:10:21 Gabriel Rouse: Food has to be one of my fav topics. 😊

01:10:21 Rosemary Wrenn (she/hers): rosemary\_wrenn@cuesta.edu

01:10:57 Julie Klein: Highest teen suicide rate is trans-bi-? -LGBQ - middle schoolers

01:11:56 Sarah Shinagawa: I think in a lot of situations if someone white isn't teaching ethnic studies people won't listen

01:12:25 Maria Villasana Berrios: thank you

01:12:31 Gabriel Rouse: Thank you

01:12:31 Foxxie Han: Very true

01:13:38 Foxxie Han: I'll be here

01:13:45 Foxxie Han: Thank you ladies

01:13:52 Brenda Saldana: thank You so much!

01:14:07 Melissa Alvarez-Mejorado: great presentation - thank you!
